

Berube says he will not serve

The new Anson, Hindon and Minden council will face a major decision as soon as the members are sworn in. They will find that one seat at the council table, that of deputy-reeve, will remain empty, and they will have to determine how best to fill that seat.

Less than a week after being elected to the position of deputy-reeve for the municipality, Brendan Berube has announced that he will not be taking office early next month. "Because of a perceived conflict of interest, personal consideration and conversation I have had with my employer, I have decided to withdraw from the post to which I was elected," Berube said in an interview Monday morning. "I am withdrawing of my own volition."

The successful candidate refused to elaborate further on his reasons for taking the action. However, he noted that he was employed with the Ministry of Natural Resources in Minden as a planner. His work would bring him in contact with policies now being set by the townships through the official plan and comprehensive zoning bylaw.

During the election campaign, Berube said his background in planning would be an asset for him if elected to the council.

While the candidate-elect has already announced his intentions, his stand will not become a legal position until the day of the swearing-in of the new council. When he does not attend the ceremonies, the position will be officially declared vacant.

Once that occurs, the new council will be faced with two options. The first is to call a new by-election in which candidates would be invited to run for the position of deputy-reeve for the municipality.

The council could also appoint one of the three successful councillors, Bern Berry, Bob Sisson and Verne Graham to the post. If the council agreed to follow this procedure, they would then have the option of appointing a qualified elector to the vacant council seat or calling a by-election to fill the vacant seat.

Because the vacancy created by the resignation of Mr. Berube, is at a senior level, the council is not allowed to select a citizen at large, for example an unsuccessful candidate from last week's election, to fill the post. If they decide to appoint someone, they must choose one of the three successful council candidates.

Election surprise

The election of Mr. Berube to the position of deputy-reeve was one of the major surprises of the Anson, Hindon and Minden Moments after the results were announced last Tuesday evening, members of the 1986-88 Anson, Hindon and Minden municipal council pose for a photograph. This will probably be the last time these individuals will be seen together as a municipal council since Deputy-reeve elect Brendan Berube, second from right, has announced he will not serve. Other members of council include, from the left, councillors Bern Berry, Verne Graham and Bob Sisson and Reeve-elect Sinc Nesbitt.

Thirteen youths charged with cottage break-ins

Thirteen persons, all young offenders under 18 years of age, have been charged with numerous break-ins of cottages and other buildings. Most of the offences took place in the past few months but some date back to the summer of 1984. All the incidents occurred in the Haliburton-Eagle Lake-West Guilford area.

In some of the occurrences, nothing was taken however, in others, small amounts of food, liquor or cash were stolen. In a few of the break-ins, more expensive items such as stereos and power tools were taken and some of these items have been recovered. Damage varied from none at all, to spray painting of some of the residences.

A total of thirty-eight reported break and enters plus several others not reported have been linked to the group who will be appearing in Young Offenders Court in Lindsay on February 11.

Constables Ken Wesley and Ben Manuge are the investigating officers.

YWCA help for battered wives extends to County

The Family Violence Safety Network, a program established by the Peterborough Y.W.C.A. to provide support for women and children is being expanded to include Haliburton County.

The program is designed to give women who have experienced emotional and physical abuse, access to support and shelter.

The Y.W.C.A. operates two Cross Roads shelters in Peterborough and has also established eleven "safe homes" in the region. A Community Development Co-ordinator, Ms. Sara Fernald, has been hired to develop operational guidelines and to recruit and train volunteers.

In an interview with The Times on Thursday, Ms.

Fernald said she would be seeking volunteers to assist with such activities as the distribution of flyers and to provide transportation for women who are seeking refuge from abusive husbands. She is also involved in confidential discussions with people who are willing to provide safe homes.

According to Ms. Fernald, "The mainstay of our program is a 24 hour toll-free crisis line (1-800-461-7656). We realize it is a very difficult thing to reach out for help. When women call us our approach is very non-judgemental. We want to help them explore their options. They may just call for emotional support which we can offer, but we also provide information on other services that are available. If a woman is thinking about moving out of her home, we can help get them to a Cross Roads shelter or a safe home."

"We realize women who are abused are often in an ambivalent situation. To stay in the home is threatening, but to leave is also threatening," because they leave behind their marriage, home, community and financial security, she commented. The safe homes that were established in the Peterborough region were set up to make the transition out of the home easier for women and Fernald hopes safe homes can be established in Haliburton County.

"It can be very therapeutic for women to stay in a Cross Roads shelter because they meet other women in the same situation, but some women do not want to be cut off from their community," she commented. Anyone who offers a safe home must be, "caring, willing to talk and listen and able to offer a warm and supportive atmosphere. They should be someone who can empathise on a realistic level with the struggle these women are facing and help them decide their future. They must also be flexible with their home. We need someone who can offer space but also accept a young child," she said.

Since communities in Haliburton County are small, women seeking refuge in a safe home may be brought to a neighbouring community. Fernald emphasised these homes will not be used very often and the identities of safe home volunteers will be kept confidential.

Once the safety network is in operation counsellors will be employed to supervise the program.

The network is funded mainly by the Ministry of Community and Social Services who approached the Peterborough Y.W.C.A. to establish the Cross Roads shelters.

According to Ms. Fernald, the government is taking a much more serious look at family violence. The Ministry has funded transition homes in large urban areas, but realized there was a lack of support services in rural communities.

The government response to the problem of family violence reflects a trend in the country to bring the problem into the open. It is no longer a taboo subject treated with indifference.

As Ms. Fernald noted, if emotional abuse of wives is taken into consideration, 1 in 10 Canadian women are abused. Using this conservative estimate, as many as 5500 women in the counties of Peterborough, Haliburton and Victoria are abused by their partners. To underline the importance of family violence to the community workshops are being held to educate service groups, community leaders, teachers, and members of the clergy.

As well Fernald notes the Ontario Provincial Police

At least one of the recently proposed projects in Minden has become a reality. The Community Center is now a part of the Courthouse square business district, having reached their goal of $200,000.00 after only ten weeks of solicitation.

In September the keys to the newly purchased building were turned over to the president of the board of directors of the Minden Community Services, Inc. When the $200,000 goal was reached, a grant of $20,000 was presented to the center campaign from the Rogers Foundation in Lincoln. With the building and equipment paid for, contributions and pledges received will now be reserved for expenses of necessary remodeling and maintaining.

Crews of volunteer workers were recruited to prepare the building for the September 26 open house. There will be plaques acknowledging contributions on display in the new center in the future. Memorials will also be properly displayed. The primary occupants of the Community Center will be Mid-Nebraska Community Services, which furnishes a noon meal for senior citizens 5 days a week, followed by a program or card games during the afternoon.

However, controversy continues concerning the municipal swimming pool. Cool weather has cooled the earlier enthusiasm for immediate action to build a new pool, but proponents argue that a decision must be made now in order to be prepared for next summer.

A feasibility study of the swimming pool has been completed by a firm of engineers and many deficiencies were indicated. The cost of repairing the present 58-year-old pool is prohibitive so the study recommended that the optimum plan would be the construction of a new pool located near the school. City Council chose to build a new pool, but because the city does not own any vacant land near the school, it was decided to build on the site of the present pool.

The estimated cost for pool construction is $475,000. This price does not include the removal of the present pool. The proposed pool would be from 6,500 to 7,000 square feet while the present pool is 8,230 square feet. At the request of the citizen pool advisory committee, the new pool will retain most of the features of the present pool and include a heater, modern facilities for chemicals, and a larger bathhouse as required by state standards.

So now comes the work on establishing a bond issue for the construction of the new municipal swimming pool. With much work yet to be done, the study has thus far only produced an estimated tax levy which was based on a $400,000 bond issue. On a 10 year bond, the levy would be 10.9 cents per $100.00 property evaluation. A 15 year $400,000 bond would require an 8.8 cent levy per $100.00. But these levies are estimates and the necessary bond issue will be larger than $400,000.

With the economy as it is right now, it would seem that passage of a large bond issue on election day would be unlikely. But then, raising $200,000 for a Community Center sounded like an impossible dream last spring.

election. While the voters rejected all incumbent candidates, the win of Berube as deputy-reeve over Ed Pergolas took many people by surprise.

While the candidate would not comment on details surrounding his decision not to accept the office, unconfirmed reports have been circulating that the MNR employee was offered the option of retaining his elected position or his post with the ministry.

(The Times has been led to believe, although we were unable to confirm that fact Tuesday, that there is no official policy within the provincial civil service regarding the participation of government employees in municipal politics.)

The Times has also learned that the Ontario Public Service Employees Union (OPSEU) is interested in contesting the province's right to direct or pressure its employees in matters such as this. This could involve a long, drawn-out court case with arguments centering on the recently enacted Canadian Charter of Rights. However, it would appear that the "test case" required by the union will not be available in this municipality.

Stanhope council briefs

Items from the November 13 meeting of the Stanhope municipal council:

The council has endorsed a resolution from the Township of Puslinch, near Guelph requesting the Ontario government to authorize the addition of a 4c per tonne levy on aggregate removed from provincial pits. The extra levy would be turned over to the municipalities in which the pits are located to assist in the maintenance of roads, or for other uses.

It was suggested that the money could also be used to assist in the rehabilitation of the abandoned pits.

Several members of council felt that the extra levy would result in increased prices which would be passed on to the public, however, the majority felt it was a good idea and added their endorsement to the resolution.

Severance transfers

The council took no action on a suggestion by the provincial government that they consider establishing their own committee to oversee land severances in the township. At the moment a county-wide group, the Land Division Committee, looks after final arbitration of these matters.

It was pointed out at the meeting that Stanhope Township has a representative on the committee and is assessed its share of the committee's expenses based on that representation. However, if the municipality decided to establish its own committee, all of the costs would have to be paid by the township. The township committee would require a minimum of three members.

The transfer of the authority to a local body would result in increased costs for the municipality, it was pointed out.

Bridge repair

The purchase of pipe for repairs to the Crooked House Road bridge will go ahead this year even though construction will not take place until next year.

The municipality had decided to go ahead with the repairs this year with Anson, Hindon and Minden sharing the costs. However, because of the time of year, the Minden council had decided not to proceed with the work and told the MTC they would not require the supplementary funding, the Stanhope meeting was told.

The meeting heard the suggestion, relayed from the MTC, that at least a portion of the funds to be used this year to purchase the culvert or the pipe, a major part of the expense, rather than reject the approved funding altogether. It was noted that a supplementary request will have to be made next year to carry out the installation of the pipe, but the major expense will have been covered in the previous year's budget.

Fire department stipend
A new method of rewarding firemen in the Stanhope brigade is expected to draw some objections, but will also be a fairer way of recognizing those who take part in the department's activities, the Stanhope council was told.

Look out Broadway - you're not the only venue to offer scintillating musicals!

Haliburton Highlands Secondary School was the place to be last Thursday and Friday evenings and Sunday afternoon to enjoy the talents of the Highlands Little Theatre group in their presentation of Tim Kelly's "Dark Deeds at Swans Place" or "Never Trust a Tattooed Sailor." (The Sunday matinee was necessary after foul weather forced the cancellation of Saturday's performance.)

Director Susan Brown did an excellent job of bringing out the faculty for fun in the group and the audience participated with appropriate "boos" and "hisses" whenever the villain appeared on stage.

Glen Carter, a long-time member of the troupe, played his character Montague Leech, an evil soul, with great verve.

The story is a real old time melodrama filled with twists and turns and constantly pitting good against evil.

Good was well represented by Heather Scully as Bertha Birthright, an orphan who finds herself the owner of a squalid tavern in Monterey after the death of her uncle Sourdough (deftly played by Betty Perugino in a vignette, stage left.)

Montague rents the tavern and, aided by his evil companions Rawhide (a bumbling apology for a cowboy) ably played by Don Lethbridge and the sinuous, sensuous Carlotta Castanet de San Diego (the she-wolf of Monterey), excellently played by Debbie Dart, has all kinds of nefarious dealings with pirates and sea captains, supplying them with kidnapped crewmen, especially Billy (Tim Andrews) who is in Monterey to join the Militia. He falls victim to Carlotta's charms and drinks her special brew which renders him unconscious and is press-ganged, bound for the China Seas on the ship of the also wicked Captain Bermuda (Ross Mark) whose only redeeming feature is he talks nicely to his parrot.

Imagine the chagrin of the wicked ones when Bertha and her slightly odd chaperone, Mary Fairweather, played with great panache by Brenda Ellis, arrive in Monterey and, on discovering her uncle Sourdough is no more, courtesy of his erstwhile companion Jack Swan - the dashing English hero (played by Doug Brohm), Bertha becomes the owner of the tavern. In acquiring the tavern, she has thwarted Montague's corrupt practices which also include milking a Chinese flower, Tai Pan by name (played by Anne Creelman) for all her money by promising to bring her family from China and, of course, not meaning one word of his promise.

The degenerate trio attempts to obtain the deed to the property by foul means, and manage to do so, incarcerating Jack in the process. Bertha has attempted to bring respectability and culture to the tavern with the help of her companion Mary and a society matron, Augusta Van Gush, well-played by Eleanor Cooper. However, the ladies find that evil seems to triumph when Montague, Carlotta and Rawhide inform them that Jack Swan has sailed away and will no longer be there to protect the innocent.

Gold is discovered in California and...you guessed it! Sourdough's claim is a rich one thus making Bertha not only heiress to the tavern but to the riches from the goldfields. Montague decides the only way to obtain the fortune is to marry Bertha, and, on her refusal, "No, No" shows his wickedness by saying to the audience "If she says No, No a thousand times No - I'll drown the cat!"

Goodness prevails however, a mysterious woman, heavily veiled and with a penchant for fainting (Sandy Willis was most elegant when she collapsed not once but three times on stage) and, it turns out she is the wife of the villain Montague.

The usual excellent performance was given by Caryl Douglas as Mother McGoof, the six-times married cleaning lady of the tavern whose comments add much to the action of the play and who, it turns out, is the long-lost mother of Mary Fairweather!

Co-conspirator Rawhide (Don Lethbridge) shares a snickering aside with the audience while Montague Leech, played by Glen Carter, shows sad-faced Bertha Birthright (Heather Scully) she has no way out of her predicament. The scene was part of the Highlands Little Theatre production of "Dark Deeds at Swans Place" or "Never Trust a Tattooed Sailor" by Tim Kelly, directed by Susan Brown.

Enter Lieutenant Lorne Order (Geoffrey Hewitson) who does indeed bring law and order to the events and helps bring the villains to justice. Bertha shows her preference for the military and as he is being shipped to China as attache, he will allow Tai Pan's family to travel to California under his aegis, bringing all the events to a happy conclusion. As Tai Pan says, "No roose ends in ris pray."

The cast and crew are to be congratulated on their exemplary performances, each character added so much to the sheer enjoyment of the evening and Carlotta's castanet-clicking vamping scenes to Bizet's Carmen were a joy to behold.

The singing by the entire cast, including the movable scenery from the vignette, was another addition to the entertainment value of the play. It was another successful venture into the world of showbiz for the Theatre Group.

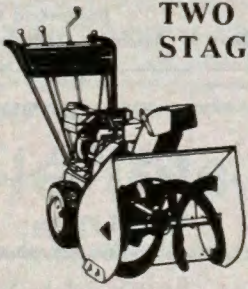

Well done everyone.

Policy changes needed

The election and subsequent announcement by Brendan Berube that he will not serve in the post of deputy-reeve for Anson, Hindon and Minden raises a number of issues.

The first is related to the apparent inability of provincial civil servants to serve in a municipal elected position. We have been led to believe, and we could stand corrected, that there is no formal regulation restricting provincial civil servants from seeking municipal office, but in fact, such activity is not encouraged.

With the lack of a formal regulation provincial government employees may believe the opportunity exists for those interested in entering municipal government. As in the most recent experience here, the results are less than acceptable for area voters when they find their choice for a particular office is no longer able to stand.

We think the provincial government should, if not encourage, at least allow its employees to become involved in the municipal election process by eliminating any formal or informal impediment to seeking office. We are aware that potential conflicts could exist between a civil servant's work and his or her elected position, but we also think the government should be flexible enough to reposition that individual to remove any conflict. The provincial government, in allowing employees to seek municipal office, should also be willing to provide, where required and justified, the necessary time to carry out the responsibilities of that office.

We concede that certain supervisory positions within the Ontario civil service, would simply not be compatible with holding a municipal office, no matter how flexible the government attempted to be. These positions would have to be identified, so those advancing to the post would be aware they would be ineligible for municipal office. But, at least the civil servants who could run for office, and those who could not, would know where they stood.

In a municipality the size of ours, the local provincial employees represent an important part of our community, both in number and in the contribution they can make. The individuals employed at provincial offices here bring with them a wealth of talents and abilities which could be of benefit to all residents if they chose to seek elected office and were successful. We're sure there are other small municipalities where Ontario civil servants form an important part of their local community, but are unable to make a meaningful contribution.

It is time the Ontario government took another look at the current situation. We do not think it is fair to the civil servants, the electorate or the operation of municipal government to continue with the present system which denies an important part of the community its fundamental rights.

(More on this topic next week).

Volunteers will be honoured

- by John Eakins, MPP -

During the past two weeks I have met with several provincial organizations involved in the tourism and recreation sectors of our province. In fact, during a ten day period, I addressed seven annual meetings from Niagara-On-The-Lake to Orillia to Peterborough.

At each of these meetings, I was happy to note that representatives from Victoria - Haliburton were in attendance. In Niagara-On-The-Lake, resort owners from Haliburton were well represented at the annual convention of Resorts Ontario. Similarly, a number of campground operators attended the annual meeting of the Ontario Private Campground Association meeting held in Toronto.

Last week I met with members of the Society of Directors of Municipal Recreation of Ontario in Orillia at the Association's training institute and annual meeting. This Association links over 400 recreation directors and personnel across the province in an effective network which helps practitioners exchange insights and address joint concerns.

Recreation provides invaluable opportunities for personal fulfillment. It brings people together in common pursuits thereby strengthening community spirit. However, in communities in Victoria - Haliburton, like many areas, this community spirit is strengthened by volunteers. Try to imagine recreation without volunteers - without the volunteer coaches, leaders, managers, co-ordinators, or committee members. If you cannot, it is because volunteers are indispensable to recreation as we know it.

Accordingly, as Minister of Tourism and Recreation, I announced last week a new provincial programme which will honour volunteers in Ontario. Details of the programme are available at municipal recreation offices since I am counting on recreation directors to aid in the nomination of deserving individuals for this award.

I also hope that municipalities, if not already doing so, will follow the Ministry's lead and introduce a similar form of official thank-you for volunteer work at the community level.

The following is an open letter to the Ontario Ministry of Transportation and Communications, Ed Fulton.

Dear Mr. Fulton:

We are becoming increasingly concerned over the number of roadside signs cropping up along the route to cottage country.

The problem area in question we are particularly concerned about is Highway 35 from where it enters Haliburton County (Moore's Lake) to the intersection of Highways 35 and 121 and Highway 121 Minden to Haliburton. (We have seen Highway 11 northbound, it is a disgrace.)

In the first instance, there are now 34 signs in a 12 mile stretch where there were only 20 a few years ago and in the second example, there are now 19 signs in a 14 mile stretch. Many have nothing to do with tourism and are even obnoxious regarding colours and aesthetics. Some are side by side and

$300 worth of nothing

The following letter was received by the Stanhope Township Council and read at the November 13 meeting:

Corporation of the Township of Stanhope

Re: Procedure for applicant(s) road closing 66 foot Shoreline Allowance

With all due respect to your informative notice to all cottagers (I presume) on how they can obtain the 66 foot allowance, the thing that really bothers me is why the notices were left in the doors of the cottages, why the cost is so high and what kind of tax is going to be levied on the additional property?

I am a new cottage owner who has seen the taxes on my property jump substantially in one year and the only explanation I received was that the school taxes were raised and that I should blame the Provincial Government.

Well for $300.00 a year in taxes I get absolute nothing. The township won't even dump the odd load of fill on our road. We, the taxpaying cottage owners have to fork out $70.00 each to have the gravel dumped and the road graded.

For the life of me, I can not see why the township just can't transfer the road allowances to the cottage owners and forget all the extra expenses. Most of us don't give two hoots about the allowance and feel that to pay extra to "own" it is a laugh.

I pay over $1,600 per year in taxes in Scarborough and for that my roads and sidewalks are maintained, my garbage is picked up, the sewers and water facilities are maintained, fire protection is close, as is police protection, amongst other things.

I would like an answer from council as to why there is a charge for land that should belong to the cottagers because it is the cottager who no maintains it without any help from the township who simply collect a lot of taxes for a lot of nothing.

Yours truly and exasperated at the high cost of taxes.

Hmm!
Double Hmm!

While I don't believe that all or even a substantial minority of cottage owners hold similar feelings about life in the Highlands, I have heard on more than one occasion owners of recreational property say they get very little or nothing for their tax dollars. On the surface, of course, it appears to be the case, especially when one compares what taxes paid in the city deliver, as the writer above does. But let's take a closer look at certain aspects of that argument.

One of the unseen elements in the comparison of Stanhope and Scarborough taxes is the major contribution of the industrial and commercial enterprises located in the Toronto suburb. These sectors pay a higher proportion of municipal taxes, thereby relieving the burden on those in the residential area. That extensive industrial and commercial base is just not available in the Highlands. The major burden of municipal taxes therefore falls to the residential property owner, those with cottages and homes.

We agree with one statement made by the writer: "Well, for $300 a year in taxes I get absolutely nothing." Let's examine some of that nothing - Your cottage in the Highlands gives you a chance to enjoy fresh air with nothing extra added to colour it or make it give a noxious smell, you get no traffic jams, no noise, no bright lights. There are no sirens wailing in the night, no rush hours, no 747's buzzing the rooftop. The list of "Nothing" your tax dollar buys goes on and on.

What you do get, however, is a chance to hear the haunting cry of the loon as the sun slips quietly into the west, or to be gently awakened the next morning by the same bird. Here is a chance to catch fish, ply the tranquil water, look out one's front window and find a quiet lake at your doorstep. Here you can swim in water unpolluted by industry and human waste, walk trails where nature abounds, or simply become lost in the stillness of a quiet day.

jack's world

by editor & publisher Jack Brezina

Oh, I know the municipality to which you pay your $300 in taxes spends very little of that amount to provide you with these amenities. These things are here naturally and like Sudbury minerals, the municipalities of the Highlands are willing to share these natural resources with those who find them as attractive as they do.

People from everywhere flock to the Highlands to enjoy these natural resources, but few of them can own a piece of it like the writer above does. Indeed, the $300 tax bill, which appears so onerous, would hardly cover the cost of a stay for a couple for a week at one of the local resorts. Your cottage is available exclusively to you at a cost of less than a dollar a day.

I think, sir, you'll find many people who are "exasperated at the high cost of taxes" but the majority of those will also readily agree they get more than the "nothing" you claim is your lot, even those at the end of private roads. And, if you feel the $300 the municipality requests from you annually is too high, there are many other individuals who are eagerly looking for a cottage to enjoy in the Highlands and would gladly take your place on the shores of Peach Lake.

I'm sure your municipality can give you an accounting of how your $300 is spent but in my books, the taxes you pay is a small sum for the many benefits available to you as a property owner in the Haliburton Highlands.

are certainly within 1000 feet of each other.

We are not concerned with signs adjacent a place of business (location signs) to advertise its presence, but signs that are placed that are placed randomly along the road many miles in advance of the location (field advertising signs.)

These signs are a blot on the landscape, contribute to visual pollution, could distract drivers and cause accidents, in addition to which we thought their presence was illegal.

Haliburton County Council has seen fit to pass a bylaw in an attempt to regulate signs on their roads. Municipalities are expected to follow suit.

There are an increasing number of letters in our local papers and editorials on the subject.

On the basis that a picture is worth a thousand words, we are enclosing a brochure which includes a sample of editorials, letters to the editor and photographs. The signs are actually much larger and more obnoxious than appears in the photos.

We request that you re-examine current policies with a view of phasing out field advertising signs on the highways of Ontario.

We would appreciate hearing of your plans in this regard.

Curriculum Co-Ordinator
Haliburton County Board of Education

The third article in our series on Primary Education deals with the importance of learning centres in the learning process. The article is written by Mrs. Christine Bailey, Principal and teacher of Kindergarten, Grades 1 and 2 at the Gooderham Elementary School. Mrs. Bailey not only writes about learning centres but is recognized as one of the outstanding practitioners of this teaching method.

The nature and purpose of learning centres in primary education

The Ministry of Education views curriculum as all those experiences of the child for which the school is responsible. Curriculum is not only concerned with what should be experienced but with why, when, where and how particular kinds of learning should take place and with the atmosphere in which the learning occurs. One way to accomplish this goal is with learning centres.

In the early stages of the learning-centre classroom, it is necessary to be somewhat structured and to gradually develop self-direction, independence and responsibility. The limits for working in centres are clearly defined and whether as individual, as pairs or in groups the children are working with clearly defined goals.

Children are individuals with varying needs and levels of ability, therefore learning centres can help to personalize and individualize instruction. They provide different ways of learning which add variety and remove the threat of competition. Using the centre approach gives the teacher more time and opportunity to work with the individual student and to appreciate his/her uniqueness.

Also, at learning centres children are not pressured to perform at a level exceeding their ability or chastised because they cannot do their work. When each student is performing to the best of his/her ability, the performance must naturally be superior. In a child-centred classroom, all ability levels are working together.

The following centres offer experiences in all areas of the curriculum:

Communication centre

This centre includes listening, speaking, writing, reading and mathematics activities. When a child comes to school he has many skills in communication. However, children acquire these skills at different rates. With the centre approach children are encouraged to progress at their own pace which builds self-confidence - a very important concept to have in order to achieve.

Imaginative role playing centre

This centre includes a house centre and dress-up box, puppets, blocks and lots of construction toys. These activities help the children to express themselves in a free-flow of language plus encourage the children to work cooperatively and socially in groups.

Creative expressive centre

Activities such as painting, modelling, cutting and pasting and drawing go on in this centre. These increase the child's own creativity and develop fine motor coordination skills.

Sensory, discovery centre

Children use the sandbox, water centre to do science experiments and work on special theme units. The activities at these centres change as the children progress and then the activities become more challenging.

In conclusion, we as educators and parents should want our children to be able to know how to learn, as well as what to know. Also, it is important that each child develops a healthy sense of self-worth and that he/she is an unique individual in our classroom and society. At the primary level, I feel that one way for all these objectives to be achieved can be through the use of learning centres.

government document is an important statement because it reflects in a financial form, the priorities of our government.

Treasurer Robert Nixon is an extremely capable man and the right person to have in this important position in our government. I'd like to examine those sections of the budget which I feel will benefit the people of Victoria - Haliburton, and Ontarians in general.

Since tourism is so important to the economy in our area, I'd first like to focus on the impact of the budget in the tourism sector. During the previous government's tenure, an exemption on sales tax on food under $6.00 was removed. Our budget has reversed this trend, creating a sales tax exemption on foods under $1.00. I see this as an important first step in the right direction. This should at least improve tourists' perception of the province by starting to gradually remove this nuisance tax on food.

In addition, operators of lodges and motels should be pleased that an extension has been approved allowing for continued tax rebates on accommodation tax. Another area which I feel Victoria - Haliburton will benefit includes the provision for additional funds for road improvements. In 1986, an extra $60 million will be provided for transit and upgrading of local road networks. Better roads will improve the tourist economy as tourists enjoy better roads and accessibility.

While I feel tourism in general will enjoy a number of advantages as a result of the budget, another major sector of our riding's economy also received added support in the budget.

Farmers should be pleased with the aid they will receive. Mr. Nixon has announced $50 million in funding will be made available through the Ontario Family Farm Interest Rate Reduction Program. This program will assist farmers in reducing the cost of their long-term debt to eight per cent for this year. In addition, a $6 million transition fund has been established to assist tobacco and other farmers leaving the agricultural industry.

Finally, in a financial related matter, I was pleased to announce last week a new financing arrangement for Deerhurst Inn. The previous government made $2.5 million available through a grant to the inn. However, with the co-operation of the federal government, we were able to offer the inn the same amount of financial assistance. The inn will now receive a public loan rather than a grant.

This proposal met with public approval as support from the resort owners and my federal counterpart. As a result, I feel Deerhurst and taxpayers will benefit. As the Toronto Star noted, under the new program "the public will at least get its capital back."

Chief Bob Nangle presented the meeting with a list of stipends to be paid out to the firemen, seeking their approval.

He told the meeting that the members received points for attending practice sessions and a certain number of points for attendance at fires. At the end of the year, the accumulated points for each man is tallied to determine his level of participation and thereby his remuneration for the year.

The chief said there would likely be objections to the small size of some of the cheques, but he said the firemen know how the system works and know how to improve their own return. He said a majority of the members of the brigade are in favour of this method of rewarding volunteer participation in the fire department.

The listing included a payment to wives who are often responsible for answering the fire phones in the absence of their husbands.

The council approved the total stipend payment of $7,900, noting it was $900 over the amount budgeted by the fire chief, but that he was willing to use funds from other sections of his budget to cover the over-expenditure.

Provincial request

In a related matter, the council endorsed a resolution from the Village of Omeme which suggested the Ontario government should assist in the purchase of live saving equipment being purchased by fire departments.

It was noted in the letter that many fire departments are now starting to purchase equipment, such as resuscitators, jaws of life, and other equipment related to the delivery of emergency health care, rather than fire suppression. The letter suggested that since these matters were covered by the Ministry of Health, the provincial government should be willing to provide greater support to fire departments which are providing these services.

Stipend

A suggestion that Councillor and Deputy-Reeve-elect Elvin Johnson should receive a $300 stipend for his many hours of hard work at the Halls Lake Park has been turned down by the

New case co-ordinator hired

A new case co-ordinator has been hired for children's services in Haliburton County. The appointment of Barbara Fraser to the post was announced by the Haliburton County Board of Education, the co-ordinating agency for the position.

The case co-ordinator for children's services is a position funded by the Ministry of Community and Social Services.

Ms. Fraser is a graduate of Sir Wilfrid Laurier University with a Masters degree in social work. She also holds a B.A. in recreation from Waterloo University. Her home is in Fort Erie.

She has experience in social planning, day camp supervision and recreation co-ordinating. She has been involved with children and adults with social needs in all these areas.

Her duties commenced on Monday.

Federal help for agriculture

- by Bill Scott, MP -

On November 7, John Wise, Minister of Agriculture released a summary of submissions received from farmers, farm organizations, provinces and financial institutions, in response to his public request for input to his review of Farm Credit Corporation's role and mandate.

A total of 63 submissions were received, 42 from individual farmers, three from national farm organizations, nine from regional farm groups, three from commodity groups, three from provincial governments and three from other individuals or organizations.

In addition, FCC staff sought the opinion of all major farm groups, provincial governments and agencies, commercial lenders, and academics. The input received reflects the diversity of opinion of Canadian farmers regarding both the nature of the current financial situation in the agricultural community, and the extent to which Farm Credit Corporation can and should assist.

While several common concerns were expressed, such as the problem of high interest rates, the proposed solutions ranged from debt write-downs, to vendor guarantees, beginning farmers' assistance, review boards, and advisory services. Most submissions did argue for some form of interest rate relief.

As Mr. Wise stated in making the announcement, "We are already well on our way toward developing for Cabinet's consideration recommendations which reflect the input we've received and which recognize the need to provide long-term answers to this very complex problem."

Our government is committed to easing the financial burden currently facing our farming community.

Police probe two accidents

No injuries occurred on Thursday, November 14 when Debra Davis, 30, of Huntsville, lost control of her 1983 Chev on the icy road surface on Highway 35 in Sherborne Township. The vehicle sustained $8000 in damages when it crossed the roadway and struck a rock face.

The investigating officer was Constable Wayne Smith.

Two injured

$6000 in damage was sustained by the 1975 Olds driven by Neil Madill, 19, of Glamorgan Township, when he lost control of the vehicle on Highway 503. The car slid into the ditch and rolled over. The incident occurred on Saturday, November 16 and two of the five occupants of the vehicle received minor injuries.

Constable Boyd Jarvis was the investigating officer.

council. The suggestion was made by the two members of the township's board of management. Mr. Johnson is also a member of that committee.

In a letter to the council, the two members said they realized the request was an unusual one, but noted that Mr. Johnson had put many volunteer hours of labour into the construction of the facilities at the park, and they felt he deserved some kind of recognition.

The members of council agreed with the assessment of the board of management members that Mr. Johnson had worked long and hard on the project, however, several expressed concern that by doing so they would be setting a precedent that could cause problems in the future.

It was also pointed out that by endorsing the action, the council would be placing the elected official in a delicate position. Mr. Johnson came to the council's rescue by suggesting that he felt the money would be better spent on further improvements to the park.

It was suggested, as well, by Councillor Anne Barker, that if the council was looking for some form of recognition for Mr. Johnson's contribution, they might consider naming the facility after the man.

Beaverton goalie and defenceman lie sprawled on the ice in front of their net in a futile attempt to block a shot by an attacking Minden Monarch. The puck found its way through the tangle of bodies and into the net. The visitors were hard-pressed to keep the Juveniles at bay and went down to a 12-5 defeat.

Juveniles suffer first loss Fenelon takes locals 6-3

The Minden Monarch Juveniles have finally met their match, or at least the team which will provide them with their biggest challenge during the 1985-86 season.

The high-flying champions for last season were brought abruptly to earth Monday evening when they lost a 6-3 decision at the hands of Fenelon Falls. The loss was the first of the season for the Monarchs and came on the heels of a rather lopsided Friday night trouncing of Beaverton. The score in that contest was 12-5.

First to Friday night...The win, though impressive on the scoreboard, was tempered by the fact that Beaverton travelled to Minden with seven skaters and two goalies. Even with the depleted ranks, the visitors were able to match the Monarchs goal for goal through the first frame.

Minden opened the scoring at 13:11 and 12:04 with quick markers by Jeff Howe and Barry Boice. Lennie Johnson and Dennis McKee assisted on the first marker with Scot Hamilton helping with number two.

Beaverton responded two minutes later with two goals in less than 60 seconds. The Monarchs again took the lead on a goal by Doug Schell assisted by Mike Cameron.

Beaverton evened the score again at 5:26 and, responding to the challenge Barry Boice potted his second of the evening with help from Scot Hamilton and Jeff Stamp.

One more goal for Beaverton rounded out the first period of play leaving the two teams tied with four goals apiece.

While Minden was able to gain the upper hand in the second period, tight play by Beaverton held the hosts to a two goal edge. Scoring for Minden was Greg Newell with an unassisted effort, followed by Barry Boice, with his third if the evening assisted by Greg Newell and Jeff Stamp.

The third period belonged to the Monarchs as the players from Beaverton ran out of steam and control. In quick succession the Monarchs scored six goals to secure an easy win over Beaverton. Scoring for Minden were: Scot Hamilton, Jeff Howe, Lennie Johnson and Mike Cameron all notched unassisted goals; Johnson scored another, assisted by Dennis McKee and a single by Greg Newell assisted by Jeff Howe.

Beaverton added one more before the final buzzer sounded.

Minden picked up 32 minutes in penalties with Beaverton players spending 24 minutes in the cooler.

Monday night game

The Fenelon Falls Juveniles took control of the game Monday evening just 90 seconds into the play. They scored their first goal at 13:27, second at 6:26 and third at 5:26.

It wasn't until the 14:32 mark of the second frame that Minden made the scoreboard. Barry Boice scored on a pass from Bernie Upton and Greg Newell. The goal wasn't the spark needed to get the team moving however, and it wasn't until two Fenelon goals later, with just 13 seconds remaining in the game, that Lennie Johnson scored with the assists going to Jason Stamp and Jeff Howe.

Craig Burk scored Minden's final goal of the game at the 5:01 mark of the third period. The assist went to Gord Wood. Fenelon added one more goal before the game ended to give the hosts a 6-3 edge.

Fenelon was assessed 16 minutes in penalties while the Minden team took ten minutes.

The next game for the Monarchs is this Friday night at the Minden arena when they face Sunderland. Game time is 8 p.m.

Santa will answer your letters

Santa Claus has asked Canada Post to deliver his letters to children who write him and use the special postal code.

To write Santa Claus - send your letters to:
Santa Claus
North Pole
Canada
HOH OHO

The jolly old gentleman said he would answer all letters which include a return address. "It's very important to remember your return address," said Santa, "Because I get so many letters to answer in such a short time."

Canada Post Corporation has delivered Santa's mail for many years. Last year the post office helped Santa answer half-a-million letters from all over the world.

The program started unofficially several years ago when a postmaster discovered a letter addressed to Santa Claus mixed in with the regular mail. Rather than destroy the undeliverable letter, he opened it and sent the child an answer. In succeeding years, the number of letters addressed to Santa increased to the point where Canada Post decided to initiate a national public service campaign to answer the growing number of children's letters to Santa.

Approximately five years ago, Canada Post assigned the special postal code, HOH OHO to letters addressed to Santa so that our mechanized plants would direct the letters to special collection points where volunteer employees would process each letter and ensure that each was read and answered.

Last year, 6,000 volunteer employees and retirees responded to more than 500,00 letters to Santa. In addition, Canada Post has successfully managed to arrange answers in dozens of languages and in braille. In cases where a letter indicates special problems, arrangements are made for professional specialists to assist in handling letters dealing with family situations, appeals for medical help for family members and other exceptional needs.

Times, Home, Rockcliffe win Monday

Two closely fought contests and one runaway scoring spree, were the features of the Monday Night Men's Recreational Hockey League this week in Minden.

In the two more evenly matched games, The Times defeated Hall's Insurance by a 5-4 edge while Rockcliffe Tavern downed Vasey's Real Estate 5-2. The runaway saw Home Hardware score 18 goals in their victory over Hartwick Construction. Interestingly, even the losing team turned a high scoring performance, notching nine goals in their effort.

Barry Shaw led the scoring for The Times with a pair of goals, one unassisted and an assist on another marker. Other marksmen included Tim Carrol, Ted Vasey and Sid MacKeighan, each with a goal and an assist. Denis Brule assisted on two goals with Fraser Rogers helped out on one.

The scoring for Hall's Insurance was shared by Dan Ellis, John Barkwell, John McAdam and Andy Campbell. McAdam picked up two assists while Ellis and Barkwell each helped out on singles. Other assists went to Bern Berry and Neil Hutchinson.

Rockcliffe win

win over Vasey's. He scored three goals. Joe Giles and Rick Mansfield rounded out the scoring for the 'Blowers. Jim Todd seemed to be everywhere Monday night, assisting on four out of five goals. Other assists went to Casey Cox and Colin Wilson.

Dan Reed and Brian Shaw scored the two markers for Vasey's. Assists on the goals went to Carl Northey and Eldon Bull on the first marker and Barry Walker and Kim Hamilton on the second.

Home's win

With five goals and an assist, John Dettman led the Home Hardware barrage of the Hartwick Construction team. He was closely followed by Larry Sawyer who notched four goals and three assists and Dave Hartwick with three goals and three assists.

Dean Hewitt managed a pair of goals, one unassisted and assisted on six of the other Home markers. Doug McNab also notched a pair of goals and three assists.

Single markers went to Doug Rae and Harold Cowen. Cowen also figured in three other goals while Rae assisted on a pair. Other assists were awarded to Royce Miller with two, Brett Austen and John McKelvey each with a single.

Responding for Hartwick Construction were Barry Ward, Joe Mitchell and Pete

Walker, each with a pair of goals. Mitchell also picked up two assists.

Single goals were scored by Kevin Hamilton and Greg Carpenter, each also had three assists and Leigh Bull who also had a single assist.

Steve Crowe also assisted on three goals.

The Men's Recreational Hockey League plays every Monday evening at the Minden arena. The first of the three games gets underway at 7 p.m. There is no admission charge.

Corps D'Elite will honour volunteer recreation workers

A new ministry program to recognize outstanding recreational volunteers was announced by Tourism and Recreation Minister John Eakins last week.

The new program, to be known as Ontario's 'Corps

D'Elite', will acknowledge the voluntary efforts of Ontario residents who have made a significant impact on the development of recreation across the province.

Each year up to 35 awards will be conferred for significant contributions at the provincial level as well as up to 15 awards in each of the ministry's five regions. The awards will take the form of a framed certificate, a distinctive lapel pin and a citation outlining the volunteer's accomplishments.

"The development of recreation in Ontario is heavily dependent on the thousands of volunteers who readily contribute their time and energy," Eakins said.

"Our Ministry currently provides support to volunteers through leadership development and training opportunities, but to date no formal recognition has been given to the volunteers who have played a major role in

Students enjoy job exhibition in Toronto

Two busloads of students from Haliburton Highlands Secondary School joined thousands of others from across Ontario at Careers 2001 at Exhibition Place in Toronto. The show provided the grade 11 students with an opportunity to talk to individuals from many professions.

Among the presentations was a video tape outlining the careers of the future. As well the students had an opportunity to stop at over 100 work stations where professionals and experts from various careers were in attendance to answer questions. Among the areas covered by the exhibition were: health and education; resource development; communication and transportation; manufacturing; arts and recreation; and retail services.

The cost of transporting the 90 students to the job fair was covered by donations from the Rotary Clubs of Minden and Haliburton.

the development of recreation in Ontario. The Corps D'Elite program will encourage further volunteer involvement and stimulate others to become involved in recreation. Partnership between volunteers and professionals is the cornerstone of any recreation system," Eakins said.

The first awards will be given in the spring of 1986.

Piano fun Monday

Those attending this Monday's edition of the Haliburton County Concert Series will be treated to a delightful combination of classical music and comedy.

There are purists in both fields, of course, who believe the two cannot be successfully wed. However, according to the clippings announcing the arrival of Elyakim Taussig, he has succeeded admirably in combining the two.

Concerts from coast to coast, on television and radio attest to the popularity of this performer whose show has been likened to the performance offered by the Danish pianist Victor Borge.

The concert is one of a series offered by the Guild group. Admission will be available at the door. The laughter begins, and without giving anything away, we suggest you be in your seat on time at 8 p.m.

The two candidates for the position of Reeve in Anson, Hindon and Minden, exchange congratulations after the final results were announced Tuesday evening (November 12). Councillor Gary Kenney, left, lost in his bid for the seat by 37 votes. Since Nesbitt, who has served as the municipality's reeve in the past, will assume office in early December.

Propane is latest option for powering vehicles

Not many years ago it was rare to fuel your car with anything but gasoline, but there are now 100,000 propane-powered vehicles and 5,000 natural gas powered vehicles operating in Canada.

Sixty per cent of the propane-powered vehicles are in Ontario. In Canada as a whole, natural gas powered vehicles are most common in British Columbia, Quebec and Ontario. This is influenced by traditional markets and distribution systems - propane-powered vehicle users benefit from an extensive distribution system and provincial government incentives in Ontario, and competitive pricing compared with gasoline in Alberta and British Columbia. The natural gas distribution system is more urban oriented and growth of natural gas as a vehicle fuel is most rapid in large urban areas where a network of fuelling stations is established.

Natural gas conversions are always to dual fuels, leaving the gasoline system intact, so that when natural gas is not available, the operator can simply use gasoline. Most propane-powered vehicles are dedicated propane-only systems.

Vehicles are converted to propane or natural gas by the addition of one or more tanks to store the gas and equipment to meter the fuel into the engine. For an automobile or light truck, a propane conversion typically costs $1,500; a natural gas conversion would cost about $2,200.

Cost savings are the prime motivator for converting to natural gas or propane. Both can be much less expensive than gasoline or diesel fuel. A propane or natural gas system is a good investment if the vehicle is driven frequently, if the engine is in good condition, if the price difference between the gaseous fuel and gasoline is wide in your area, and if the fuel you are considering is easily available.

The annual kilometres driven and the rate of fuel consumption determine how quickly conversion costs will be paid back. Frequently used, high-consumption vehicles will recover the cost of conversion quickly. It is best to talk to a conversion specialist about your specific situation, as this is the only way to be sure that conversion will be economical.

Black Top Cabs Ltd. of Vancouver converted 128 vehicles to dual-fuel natural gas and gasoline. The transition was rapid and, within four months, 90 per cent of the fuel being used by the cabs was natural gas. The company monitored its vehicles after the change was made and found that the net capital costs of the conversions were fully recovered within the first year of operation, and each cab was saving almost $600 per month in fuel costs.

Both propane and natural gas are clean-burning fuels, producing few exhaust emissions, particularly carbon monoxide and hydrocarbons. The gaseous fuels perform much better than gasoline for short runs and in cold weather, and this is particularly important in city driving where heavy traffic raises air pollution levels substantially. Vehicle conversion technology has proved safe and reliable over 60 years and in hundreds of thousands of conversions worldwide.

Assistance announced for new industry in Cardiff

Bart Industries of Cardiff will establish a metal fabricating plant in a building once owned by a now-defunct uranium mine.

Bart, a division of 60956 Ontario Inc., will receive a $41,000 contribution towards the project under the federal government's industrial and regional development program (IRDP). It will be the first manufacturing establishment in Cardiff and is expected to create 12 jobs over the first three years.

The announcement was made by Bill Scott, MP for Victoria-Haliburton, on behalf of Andre Bissonette, Minister of State (Small Businesses.)

Bart-Industries will manufacture boat trailers, mine and mill-related steel products, heavy duty off road trailers and a line of outdoor trash containers for homes and containers. The total cost of the venture is estimated at $164,000.

The plant will be located in a renovated building that formerly housed the warehouses and offices of the Bicroft Uranium Mine which operated from 1954 to 1962. The building is being refurbished under a grant from the Canada Employment and Immigration Commission.

The Industrial and Regional Development Program is administered by the Department of Regional Industrial Expansion (DRIE) and provides direct financial assistance to industry in Canada.

Teachers attend reading seminar

Submitted

At a conference entitled "Fan the Spark" approaches to reading through literature, women teachers from across Ontario were challenged to develop positive attitudes towards reading in children of all ages. Attending from this area were Mrs. Helen Newton and Mrs. Yvonne Newell of Archie Stouffer Elementary School.

Dr. Arn Bowers of the Faculty of Education, University of Toronto, addressed three hundred women teachers at the conference November 15 and 16 at the Skyline Hotel, Toronto.

Introduced at the conference was the new Federation resource document "Approaches to the Teaching of Reading" which was designed to assist teachers to meet the individual needs and learning styles of the children in the classroom.

Among the workshop leaders were: Dr. Gordon Wells from Ontario Institute for Studies in Education; Sonya Dunn, the president of the Canadian Society of Children's authors, illustrators and performers and Dr. Wanda Wahlstrom who specializes in children's literature.

Branch 129

by Gerald Irish

Legion sponsored Cadets will be a reality.

Last week, Peter Krisjansen, General Manager of the Ontario Army Cadet League, General Forbes West, Vice-President of the Canadian Army Cadets and Captain Bill Birch from Base Trenton visited with the Cadet Committee and Cadet Leaders.

After the meeting and inspection of our facilities, we were informed that we can have our own Cadet Corps here. Cadets must have their birth certificates and social insurance numbers. Both documents will be photocopied and are necessary for insurance purposes and payroll sheets.

Your cadet leaders will soon be visiting another corps to meet with their leaders. Watch this column or listen for announcements at the schools for future cadet involvement.

The Ladies Auxiliary of Branch 129 have made some very generous donations to the Branch. They have purchased a new piano for the club room, will replace the drapes in the auditorium with new drapes and purchase new prints of Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Phillip for the main hall.

In her presentation to the Branch Executive, Comrade Jan Shipley remarked on the redecorating already done in your Branch and expressed the desire of the L.A. to assist the Branch in continuing this work.

The Hunters' Ball was a great success. Almost 100 bucks and numerous does danced the night away and thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

Approximately fifty members attended the general meeting on November 7. Much business was accomplished. Comrade

Jack Bassett has agreed to serve on the executive to replace one of our members who has resigned. All committee chairmen gave very favourable and promising reports.

By the time you read this report, Remembrance Day

1985 will have come and gone. We sincerely hope that the memories generated by the services do not go by and have existed for the one day only. Keep Remembrance Day in your hearts and minds all year long. The sacrifices were too great to be remembered for one day only.

Calcium intake important for pork

A great deal has been written lately about the importance of calcium in the diets of senior citizens. It has also long been recognized that calcium is a vital part of the diet of young people and women of child-bearing age. But not enough has been written about the relationship of calcium to phosphorus and vitamin D in the diets of all of us, and in our pigs as well.

Calcium and phosphorus compounds make up about three-fourths of the mineral matter in the entire bodies of farm animals, and over 90 per cent of that in their bones. These minerals must be provided daily to swine in order to replace those that are lost from the body, or used up in reproduction, milk production or growth.

In order to get the calcium and phosphorus from the feed, and to use them efficiently, animals must have sufficient vitamin D. This they can get from sunlight or in their feed.

Another strange characteristic of these two mineral elements is that they must be available in amounts that bear a close relationship to each other. In other words, if an animal has too much calcium and too little phosphorus, it may show the effect of calcium deficiency, even though there is plenty of calcium present in the diet. If the two minerals are present in the correct ratio to each other, much less vitamin D will be required for the calcium and phosphorus to do their jobs.

This relationship is called the Calcium: Phosphorus ratio. It ranges from 1:1 to 1.5:1 for swine, with an optimum for mature sows and boars at about 1.25:1. In general, younger, faster-growing pigs need more phosphorus to bring the ratio closer to 1:1:1. This is also the case for sows in late gestation and during the nursing period, where a heavy drain is being placed on these nutrients.

It is very important that not only the level of these nutrients be kept under control, but also the ratio. Producers who are skilled at balancing their rations will notice heavier birth weights, faster growth and more productive lives with fewer problems in their breeding herds.

for Bert Harrison

Dear Readers: Well as Bert is still away in hospital here I come again. We had quite a snowfall last weekend, Squaw winter I hope now we are ready for Indian Summer.

Imagine how nice a couple of weeks of sunshine would be!

I was out to my daughter's, Marie Baker, for Saturday and Sunday so may have missed some doings on the weekend but I understand there were quite a few callers as usual.

Tuesday John and Kathy Trusseller from Powassan were in to see their Grandmother Lily Hogg. George and Jean Hewitt came and got her mother, Mrs. Pearl Lyle, and took her home for a few days.

We are glad to have Clara Coulter back home with us. She was out visiting with her sisters for three weeks, also Ada Lewis who was out for a few days.

Tuesday David and Sherry Hogg from Sudbury called on their Grandma Hogg. Lily was so glad to see them. Her sons and grandchildren live quite a ways away and she doesn't see them so very often.

It was Municipal Elections on Tuesday and voting in the Auditorium. Several people came down into the Home and visited with friends and relatives, which was nice. It seems a shame that more people didn't vote, all over Ontario the same. It is a privilege denied so many in the world today.

We are very glad to have Melinda O'Mara back from her maternity leave. We certainly were well cared for by Ruth Griffin while Melinda was away. Mike & Melinda have a lovely baby girl and they named her Lindsay Patricia, which is a nice name.

There has been so much ice this year, we wonder how our nurses and other workers are going home and coming in, night and day.

We would like to say a sincere thanks to the Auxiliary ladies who come in and open the Tuck-Shop three or four times every week. It all adds to the quality of life in Hyland Crest.

Kathleen Owens came alone on Wednesday night as Earl Cooper was away hunting. She played the piano and accordion which we enjoyed very much. The Haliburton Rug Hookers brought the lovely lunch on Thursday. No one came to call for Bingo so some were disappointed.

Doris showed us three films in the auditorium

Friday afternoon. They were "Flamingos of America", "Patterns of Love" (about quilts) and "Adventures in Newfoundland". We enjoy the films for they show us places and things which we'd never have a chance to see otherwise.

We hear that Mrs. Winnie Johnson and Mr. Gordon Ruttle have made it back as far as Minden Hospital, but are not home yet and Bert Harrison is still in Lindsay. We sure miss you folks and do hope you will soon be well again.

Well, I can't think of any more news this week, so take care.

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off in the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

Program will honour volunteers

A public "thank you" is being made to the many hardworking Ontario volunteers, organizations and businesses who have helped to enrich the lives of their communities and fellow citizens.

The Honourable Lily Munro, Minister of Citizenship and Culture, has announced the creation of Outstanding Achievement Awards and the return of the highly successful Volunteer Service Awards.

"The Outstanding Achievement Awards is a new program designed to recognize individuals, businesses and non-profit organizations who have gone far beyond the call of duty and made major contributions to volunteerism as it relates to citizenship and/or cultural activities," Dr. Munro said.

"It is my hope that these awards will enhance the image of volunteerism and inspire others by showing how it enriches the lives of those who give as well as the communities that receive."

The awards are given in three categories.

Individuals demonstrating outstanding volunteer efforts such as special dedication, leadership abilities, innovation or initiative can be nominated by non-profit organizations.

A non-profit organization can be nominated for its work in furthering the ideals of volunteerism by a volunteer of the organization or by another non-profit organization. Organizations that imaginatively or creatively involve volunteers whether it be through program delivery, recruitment, skills training, or volunteer programs may be nominated.

A business making a significant effort to advance volunteerism may be nominated by a non-profit organization. Ways in which businesses support volunteer organizations may include such areas as helping with personnel, lending professional expertise, equipment or facilities and fund-raising.

Applications will be reviewed by a ten member jury appointed by the Minister. Deadline date for submissions is November 30, 1985.

An award especially created by an Ontario craftsman will be presented to fifteen recipients at a special ceremony in Toronto on February 14, 1986.

Nominations for the second annual Volunteer Service Awards are now being accepted.

"Last year over 2,500 men and women working in the areas of culture and citizenship were presented 5, 10, and 15 year service pins," the Minister said. "The enthusiasm and joy of receiving these awards was felt throughout the province and I look forward to recognizing many more volunteers this year."

Non-profit organizations whose activities relate to the mandate of the Ministry of Citizenship and Culture may nominate up to a maximum of six individuals each year for recognition. Nominations can be made for 5, 10 and 15 or more years of service. Applications will be accepted until December 15, 1985.

Lapel pins signifying the various categories of service will be presented to individuals throughout the province in ceremonies in the spring of 1986.

Volunteer recognition for both awards must relate to the mandate of the Ministry of Citizenship and Culture which includes the following areas: the arts, heritage conservation; public libraries; community information centres; newcomer services; multicultural activities; citizenship activities; and programs by and for Native people.

"Since the days of the first settlers, volunteers have been enriching and energizing our province with their selfless gifts of time and talent," the Minister added. "They have added to both the economic and social well-being of Ontario and it is important that we recognize the tremendous contribution they make to their communities and to the province as a whole."

Information and forms for both award programs may be obtained by writing or calling: Volunteer Awards Program, Ministry of Citizenship and Culture, 5th Floor, 77 Bloor Street

West, Toronto, Ontario M7A 2R9. Telephone (416) 965-7505, or by contacting the nearest regional service office of the Ministry of Citizenship and Culture.

Drop-In Centre news

by Bruce Armstrong

The Times kindly carries, when space permits, the Haliburton County Home Support Services, Drop-In Centre report and I have been asked to do this one task of the many that Katherine H. McMahon performed so capably.

Many of you are aware that the centre is operation now essentially with volunteers and that it's planning committee recently obtained approval to initiate an Activities membership fee structure of $5 per 6 months.

The regular bridge, bingo, cribbage and euchre enthusiasts are asked to join, however any older adult may become a card-carrying member; already we have over 40 who have contributed. All monies go toward the centre's share of the operating cost, estimated in 1985 at $1571.00.

We fully appreciate that the literally hundreds of hours given unselfishly by the many county volunteers cannot be equated into a simple monetary figure and therein lies the strength of our seniors-helping-seniors concept. Realistically though, our landlord, Ma Bell, your friendly Hydro and other services still expect their stipends.

Drop in during the week between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. for a cup of coffee or a chat or read a newspaper in a warm and comfortable atmosphere. Between the hostesses or hosts or games convenors there is almost always someone there to say Hello.

Note: Members should reserve December 10 for a Christmas luncheon and games afternoon. M.I.T.F.
